

TMHA Welcomes Durabilt by Durbin as a New Allied Member

TMHA is pleased to announce that Durabilt by Durbin, Inc. has become a new Allied Member of our great organization. Below is a brief bio of Durabilt explaining who they are and what they do.

"Durabilt by Durbin is the successor of Durbin Durco, and therefore has manufacturing experience going back to 1938. Durabilt manufactures cargo control, load securement, and material handling products to the highest standards available in the market. As always, you can count on Durabilt to provide an extensive line of high-end ratchet binders, tie-downs, welded chain, chain hoists, and turnbuckle ratchets. Superior Quality that comes from more than 100 years of experience serving more than 10 industries world-wide. If you have customers that lift, pull, position, tow, drag, tie-down, or lash their products – Remember, Durabilt can help."

We want to thank Durabilt president, Thomas Durbin, for bringing his company on board as an Allied Member and we look forward to their active participation in our Association. When you get the chance, please join us in welcoming Tom and Durabilt to TMHA.
